

The Houston Symphony

This is a fieldtrip that you will not want to miss. The Houston Symphony called and wants our group to come hear them for FREE! Mrs. Carpenter gave permission for us to attend on Wednesday, February 4th.

This is not the type of event that includes a lot of clapping and cheering but sitting respectfully in the audience while these professional, world-renowned musicians perform. I certainly hope that all students will want to attend but it will require a mature audience to fully appreciate what we will be seeing and hearing.

We will be meeting after 1st period and leave by 10 a.m. Students will be wearing their orchestra t-shirts and jeans or a black shirt with jeans. Students are expected to make arrangements with their teachers to turn in work that is due that day and also to get new assignments so that they will not be behind in their work. The concert begins at 11:15 a.m. at Jones Hall in downtown Houston. We will be eating a sack lunch when we get back to campus and report to 6th and 7th periods.

We will need parent chaperones but seats are limited and will be on a first come first serve basis. We are looking for about 5 adults from each grade level to accompany us on our fieldtrip.

My child, _____ has permission to attend the Houston Symphony and will bring a sack lunch to school that day.

___ I would like to chaperone this trip. Name: _____

___ I could help file the student's homework in the teacher's boxes after the students leave for the fieldtrip.
